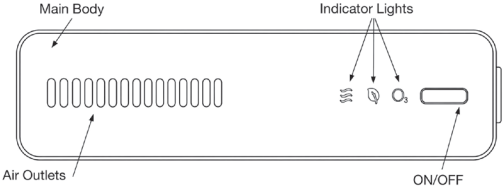
USER'S MANUAL

Product Introduction



This product adopts a new technology using active oxygen and negative ion purification, which can get rid of odors and sterilize the air. When the unit is placed in a refrigerator, it can deodorize and disinfect food. It uses a low amount of power and no consumables, which is makes it economical and easy to use.

Active Oxygen & Negative Ion Purification

- Active Oxygen: A super-strong oxidizer that destroys bacterial RNA, kills and inhibits the growth of bacteria, eventually forming O_2/H_2O/CO_2 and other common harmless substances.
- Negative Ions: Negative Ions are a kind of ion which have one or more ions, also named as anions or negative oxygen ions. Experimentally proven, negative ions destroy bacterial viruses in the air or on surfaces. They quickly condenses small particles of positively charged dust such as PM2.5 or smaller particles that are harmful to humans and cleans the air fast.
