USE & CARE

Our Cast Iron Kettle arrives pre-seasoned and ready to use! Just give it a quick rinse, dry it, and fire it up. Pair with the Breeo Outpost™ Grill and Kettle Hook for the ultimate live-fire cooking.

Clean the kettle by washing it by hand with water and a small amount of soap. For stuck-on food in the kettle, simmer a small amount of water for 3-5 minutes, and use a scraper after the kettle has cooled.

Dry promptly by reheating the kettle until the moisture evaporates, or use a lint-free cloth or paper towel to wipe dry.

Rub a light layer of cooking oil or spray on the surface of the kettle. Use a paper towel to wipe the surface until no oil residue remains.

WARNING

Always practice safety first when using the kettle and accessories, and exercise the same precautions you would with any open fire.

Never leave your Breeo® Fire Pit & accessories unattended, especially around children and pets. The Cast Iron Kettle and accessories become very hot and can cause severe burns.

Do not touch when hot. Always wear heat-resistant gloves when interacting with the kettle over an open fire to avoid burns. Avoid touching sensitive surfaces with the kettle when they are hot.

Hand wash only. Do not use steel wool or a metal scrubber to clean your kettle.

When paired with the Kettle Hook or Outpost Grill, do not overfill.

Do not overweight your Outpost Rod and accessories when cooking. Do not exceed 20 lbs. of weight on the Outpost 19 Grill or 40 lbs. on the Outpost 24 Grill.

Do not swing the kettle outside the fire pit's inner circle, as this can result in tipping. Keep the kettle within the inner part of the fire pit.
