STEP 1:

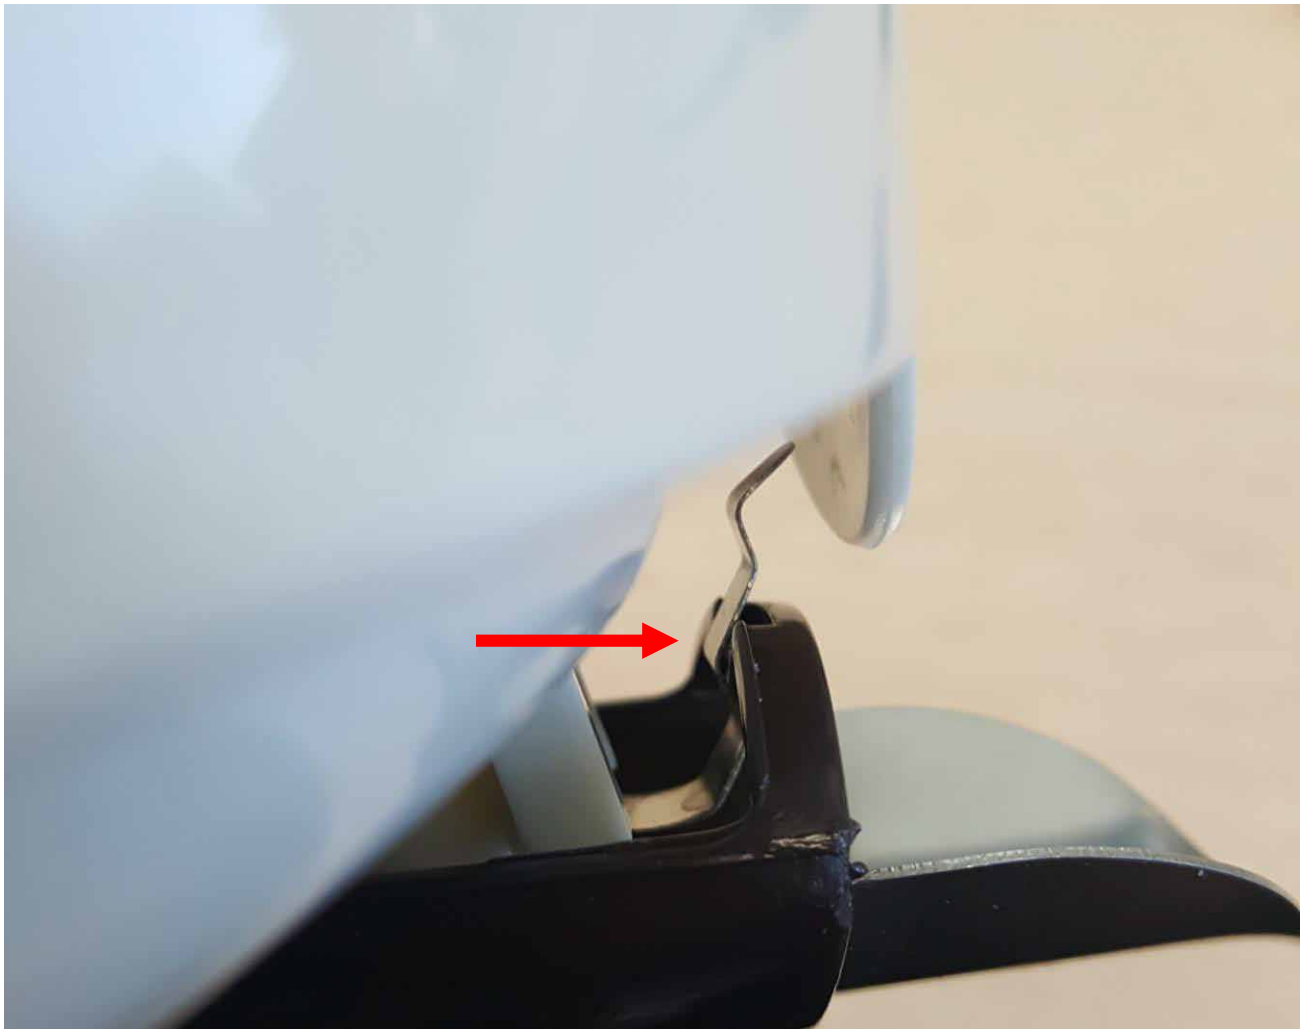

Slide the spring piece out from the underside of the juice collection bowl. You may have to use a pen or similar tool to push the spring out of the housing from the base of the spring indicated by the arrow. Do not pull on the metal as this may cause it to bend out of shape.

STEP 2:

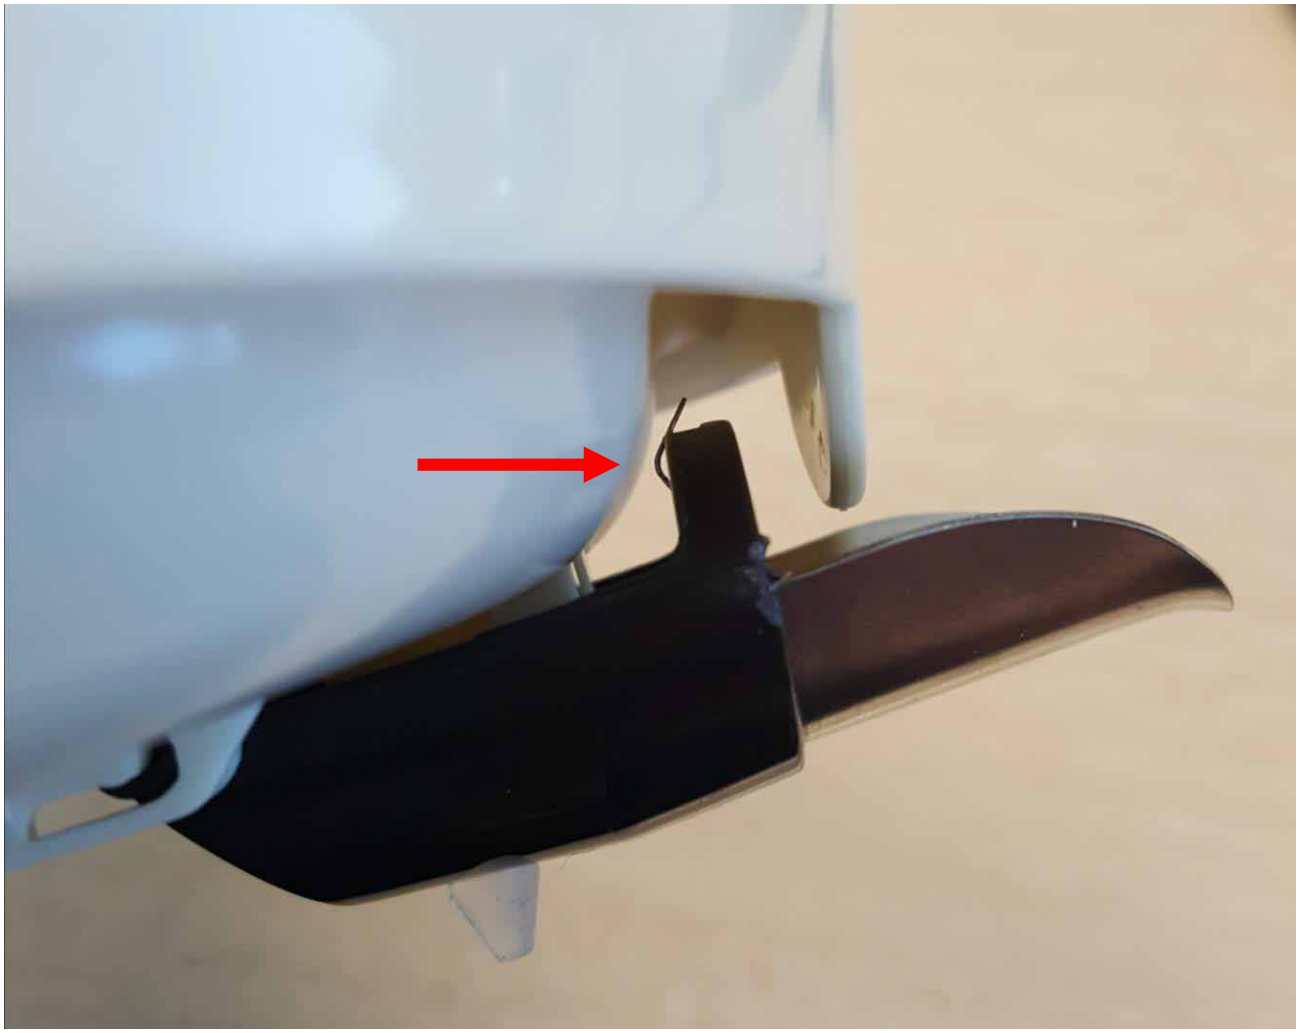

Slide the new spring into the spring-holder.

The spout and spring should look like the image below when the spout is down and open to allow juice through.

And the spout and spring should look the image below like when the spout is up and closed.
